

Hey, bride-to-be - how about a treat for the person who made your big day possible? Your mum!

Who'd have thought it? You're all grown up and getting married - the years have simply flown by. But the wedding of the year won't just be special for you and your husband. There's bound to be that one really special person, right at the front in a big hat, wiping away the tears. Your mum. Why not show her your appreciation with a special treat?

Help her to look her best on the big day with a Mother of The Bride pampering session - a three-hour stress-busting package complete with facial, manicure and pedicure at the Virginia Williams Skincare Studio.

As soon as she sets foot inside the treatment room, located in a quiet and leafy South Woodford street, she'll be handed a glass of champagne. This will be followed by a heavenly deep cleansing facial, customised especially to her skincare needs. With the finest Dermalogica products at the therapist's fingertips, mum'll be feeling radiant in an instant.

Among the other therapy treats is the intensive spa manicure treatment, where a nourishing cleanse will help to improve her nails, especially if they've become dry or brittle. She'll have the nails shaped and polished, and her cuticles maintained.

This is followed by a spa pedicure, where the stress of helping you to organise the wedding will simply melt away. Mum is certain to indulge herself in the moment as her feet are given an invigorating sea salt soak, followed by a nail shaping and cuticle maintenance, exfoliation, massage and polish.

As you look back on your wedding day photographs, and see your mum looking refreshed and youthful, you'll remember how much this treat meant to her - and wonder how she could possibly be old enough to be your mum!
